The call for the convention is signed by M. W. Sutton, chairman Union church convention, and P. G. Reynolds, chairman Opera house convention.

George Reed, who was foreman for two years of the A. T. & C. F. R. L. shops in this city, was in Dodge last week. He is engaged in mining at Buena Vista, Colo. He says on the north side of the mountain ranges there is a depth of forty feet of snow, the usual depth of snow on this range being only about four feet. At some points of the mountain range the snow is so deep as to prevent passage. His opinion is that the great abundance of snow will melt soon and give the prairie range plenty of rain.

Mr. Reed says the fall, winter and spring was colder than usual, the like not being known for thirty years. The old settlers say no such fall of snow has occurred within a good many years. The spring was late coming and the melting of the snow was prevented. Ice fourteen inches in thickness formed at Buena Vista, last winter, something before unknown. We give it as a candid opinion that plenty of rain will fall in Western Kansas this summer season.

Children's Day.

Last Sunday June 14th, was observed in the Methodist church as "Children's day." The services were well attended and were highly profitable to the cause of Christian education.

The object is to assist the struggling and worthy poor to prepare themselves for the highest possible usefulness.

To place the poor man's son or daughter who has merit, on an equal footing with the sons and daughters of the rich, making it possible for the poor as well as the rich, to rise.

To show to S. S. scholars that the attainment of a higher education is possible.

To show them what the church has done in the past, what it is doing now and what it proposes to do in the future to help her young to the highest possible attainment of Christian learning.

The Methodist Episcopal church has 169 colleges, universities and classical seminaries. They enroll 1,500 teachers and professors, 30,000 students. 400,000 have gone out from them as graduates. In the last twelve years 2,700 have received help from the church to the amount of $325,000.

The children have by the children's day collection helped to educate more than 1,000 persons in eighty different institutions of learning. Many of these have not yet finished their course, but of those who have, more than 200 have entered sixty of our annual conferences as traveling ministers. Thirty have become foreign missionaries, in Bulgaria, India, Japan, Mexico and South America, while others have become teachers, editors, lawyers, doctors etc.

The collection was taken by little girls and amounted to $18.81, half of which will be sent to the general educational fund of the church, the other half to the Baker university at Winfield, Kansas. The names of S. S. scholars are enrolled in the secretary's book and if any have died during the year appropriate memorial services are held. It is strong evidence that we have a healthful climate when we say that of the 150 members of the Methodist S. S. in Dodge City we record not a single death during the past year.

Birds, flowers, responsive readings, and music were the principal attractions both morning and evening.

Garden City (Finney county) Cultivator: West Kansas is commonly supposed to be liable to drought; but it can hardly experience as severe a dry season as east Kansas did in 1860, when it hardly rained at all for a full year—say from September, 1859, to September, 1860. That was the "famine year," and it is commonly said that no crop was raised that year. But such was not the fact. We can point to several instances where good crops of corn were raised that very year, in spite of the drought, and that by dint of constant plowing, cultivation, keeping the ground loose, so as to serve as a mulching.

Millet seed will do to sow from now until about July 12. The quantity to sow per acre will depend upon the purpose for which it is sown. If the crop is sown for seed, not more than twelve quarts of seed should be sown to the acre. If for hay, from sixteen to twenty quarts. For fodder it should be cut before ripening. After sowing the seed the ground should be well rolled as during our hot summers the loose soil dries out and only a small portion of the seed germinate.

The whisky fight in Atchison is getting hot. The Globe says:

"A threat is heard on the streets to send J. T. Allen's down the river on a raft."

To this the Champion retorts as follows:

This is the same ruffianish talk indulged in in the early days of Atchison, and a respected citizen was sent down the river on a raft. The Border Ruffians, however, had to go and did go, and so will the saloons in this year of our Lord 1886.

Clawson Parker, who recently went to Kansas City and made arrangements for the manufacture of his stock branding machines, started Tuesday for Trail City to erect a branding chute for the convenience of Stock men. Of all the machines made for this purpose Clawson Parker's stands at the head.

The Santa Fe road announces a rebate of fifty cents per 100 pounds on immigrant outfit in carloads, including not to exceed ten head of livestock, from Atchison, Leavenworth or Kansas City, to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Trinidad and El Moro.

J. W. Alford, a Baptist preacher of Jackson, Tenn., writes the Voice that, "I am and always have been identified with the Democratic party, but if the Republican Prohibitionists are willing to meet us of the south half way, I think our people will respond."

Bob Hutchison is said to be plowing the longest furrow in the world. It begins at Wilson, Kansas, and extends to Denver and return. His contract calls for five 14-inch furrows on each side of the track of the Kansas Pacific railroad.

"Druggists" in Kingman pay $15 per month occupation tax. The mayor of that wicked town says some of the stores have three dollars worth of drugs and six hundred dollars worth of whisky in stock.

Every farmer in the county has been, since the rains came, straining every nerve to get as much soil broken as possible. As a consequence large areas have been turned.—Fowler Graphic.

The Fowler Graphic editor is in no hurry for railroads. Railroads will come soon enough.

Dodge City, June 12th, 1886. At a regular meeting of the Atchison Valley Division No. 222 held on the 26th day of May, 1886, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas it has pleased the Almighty to remove from our midst our late Bro. Geo. Eyrre who died at Battle Creek, Mich., April 19th, of consumption. Therefore be it resolved that in the death of Bro. Eyrre this division has lost a very worthy member, and the R. R. Co. a most efficient engineer. Resolved that we the members of division 222 tender our heart sympathy to his bereaved wife and relations. Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the wife of our deceased brother, and spread upon the minutes and published in the journal and local papers.

The City Council passed an ordinance with the following sections:

Section 1. No person shall suffer or permit bawling, shouting, hawling, screaming, profane or obscene language, fighting, dancing, singing, whooping, or quarrelling, or any other unusual sounds or noises in his or her house or premises so as to disturb the neighborhood.

Section 2. No person shall willfully disturb the peace by violent, tumultuous or offensive conduct, or by loud and unusual noises, or by obscene, profane, offensive or threatening language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, or by assaulting, striking or fighting another within the city.

Section 3. No person shall furnish or display any gun or pistol, or wear or carry concealed or otherwise about his or her person any gun or pistol or slug shot, cross knuckles or knuckles, knife, brass or other metals, or bowie knife, dirk knife, or dagger, or deadly weapon, instrument or other thing within the city. Provided that this section shall not be construed as to prohibit the city marshal or police from carrying such weapons as may be necessary in the proper discharge of their duty.

Section 4. Any person violating any of the provisions of section one, two and three of this ordinance shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense.

Geo. G. Gilbert was down from camp the other day, and reports that next week will let them out, and then the water will be turned into the canal and be brought down as far as Spearville as fast as possible. There are a great many holes in the ground made by gophers, prairie dogs, badgers, etc., that will have to be stopped, or they are liable to cause washouts. The whereabouts of these holes can only be determined by letting in the water, and when found, to shut it off again. There are, also, two railroad crossings to be made. But as the canal in each case runs under the track, it is but a comparatively short job after the railroad company is ready to put in the necessary bridging. The railroad will allow no other parties to do this part of the work, but the ditch men will be on hand in full force at the appointed time to remove the dirt while the bridges are being put in. It will not be long until the big ditch will be fully tested as to its ability to carry water from the level of the Arkansas river to the uplands of this region of country. Although it will be too late for any practical service in irrigation, the E. I. C. company propose getting everything into shape for a good outpouring of the oft needed waters another season.—Spearville Blade.

D. Brooks has returned from Dodge, and is now living on his claim, 14 miles east of town. He has commenced rounding up the farmers in the interest of the fruit tree business. S. N. Adams informed Mr. Brooks, that of the 100 peach, pear, cherry and plum he bought of him this spring, that they are all growing nicely. He gave his order for as many more.—Wilburn Argus.

Crops in this part of Ford are looking fine. On a trip north west of Wilburn last week, we were surprised to see the fine corn that was growing in that section of the county. Farmers are jubilant over their prospects for the coming season, and when they are not plowing corn, they are turning the buffalo sod and sowing thereon millet and cane seed. This we would advise all to do. It will furnish you abundance of the very best of feed for your stock, and there is always a demand for feed, which will enable you to dispose of your surplus and we would advise all to plant and sow as long as possible.—Wilburn Argus.
